

Pima Community College's Applied Technology programs prepare their graduates for robust careers.

All Pima's Applied Technology programs combine theory and science with extensive safety training and hands-on experience. Pima students can choose from a variety of certificates, concentrations and degrees in fast-growing areas including Automotive Technology, Aviation Technology, Building Construction Technology, Computer Aided Drafting, Machine Tool Technology, Mechatronics and Welding. For information on Pima's programs, visit pima.edu.

A portion of proceeds from this event will benefit the Applied Technology Support Program at the Pima Community College Foundation. The Foundation's mission and purpose is to secure and manage philanthropic contributions to support the College, its students, faculty and programs by providing necessary funds. The Foundation accepts both monetary and in-kind donations, which are tax-deductible to the fullest extent of the law. Each donation is acknowledged by the Foundation with a thank-you letter and a tax-deductible receipt.

45th ANNUAL RODDERS DAYS

Welcome to the 45th Annual Rodders Days April 27, 2019

Join the Tucson Street Rod Association for a fun-filled Saturday in beautiful Tucson, Arizona for the 45th Rodders Days.

The Saturday Car Show will be held at Pima Community College's Downtown Campus in the west parking lot and will include show vendors, food vendors, 50/50 drawings, basket raffles, door prizes, a DJ and garage tours.

Pima Community College (PCC) will offer tours of its Applied Technology programs, including Automotive, CNC Machining, Welding, Mechatronics, and others at 9 a.m., 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and noon. PCC's Automotive program features the Fiat Chrysler Automotive (FCA) Mopar® Career Automotive Program (CAP) Local initiative and the Subaru U program. Students receive online training to prepare them for work at FCA and Subaru dealerships. These programs are also available to PCC's high school partners.
